

The symposium is organized by the Bulgarian NMR Centre, Institute of Organic Chemistry with Centre of Phytochemistry, Bulgarian Academy of Sciences and Bruker BioSpin, with the assistance of the agency CIM Ltd.

The NMR event aims to address various aspects of applied NMR spectroscopy in liquid, interface and solid state, ranging from structure determination of small molecules, through metal-organic framework materials to biological molecules, as well as novel signal enhancing and processing techniques. The NMR symposium is intended as a dynamic discussion forum in both an intellectual and social sense.
